

Overview

Our CONDO training is designed to reduce risk and sustain effective operations in some of the most demanding environments in the world. We ensure that the individual deploying has the appropriate preparation and risk mitigation strategies to operate in hostile or complex environments. Our CONDO training courses have prepared many students from major international corporations.

G4S is also able to draw on its own bespoke reports and security risk assessments to support CONDO operations, gathering information from a variety of open and closed sources, as well as G4S's global footprint in over 110 countries.

For contractors who are due to be deployed on Ministry of Defence (MOD) contracts within the nominated Joint Operations Area (JOA), we ensure clients and their employees receive the preparation to operate safely and securely. All our courses are designed to meet the obligations under DEFSTAN 05-129 and can be held at our secure training facilities or at a client's premises.

Syllabus

We recommend our standard three day course, however the curriculum and duration can be adapted to suit the needs of the client. Our core modules are delivered in an environment where role play and practical exercises are used to reinforce the learning experience.

Core modules include:

- CONDO organisation and responsibilities
- Operations briefing
- Medical
- Basic safety and security procedures
- Life support
- Threat awareness
- Administration, welfare and discipline
- Use of MOD provided transport

G4S Specialist Training is a leading provider of pre-deployment support to CONDO. We help employers ensure that their employees are prepared to undertake their jobs safely and securely.

- SOFA and MOU
- CBRN

Supplementary modules can be added on request, including:

- Phoenix Tier 1 Medic course, an Edexcel certified First Person on Scene (intermediate) qualification
