Hostile Environment Awareness Training (HEAT) helps organisations protect their assets by increasing employees’ awareness of risk and their understanding of how to manage it in demanding environments.

Overview

G4S Risk Management’s Specialist Training division offers HEAT. This training is specifically designed to prepare individuals who are travelling to or will be living in challenging environments.

On completion of this training, delegates will be able to recognise and avoid potential threats, enabling them to operate safely and effectively in situations that put them outside their comfort zone.

The course combines theory with relevant practical experience and has consistently been at the forefront of innovative, realistic and effective training. Students will spend time analysing the environment they are travelling to, carrying out a detailed risk assessment of the area and learning about travel pattern analysis, surveillance detection and attack recognition.

We recommend our standard three day course, however the course curriculum and duration can be adapted to suit your needs, although a syllabus of core modules is recommended.

Syllabus

- Abduction, kidnap and ransom avoidance
- Car-jacking and vehicle security
- Communication and voice procedure
- Conflict resolution
- Country evacuation and emergency equipment
- Cultural awareness
- First aid, trauma and road traffic accident response
- Global threats and recent incidents
- Hostage survival
- Improvised explosive devices and mines
- Incident reaction training
- International travel and journey management
- Navigation, GPS and tracking systems
- Residential and hotel security
- Security and situation awareness
- Surveillance detection and evasion
- Weapons recognition and effects

Staff and facilities

Training is conducted at our training facility in Pershore, Worcestershire. Our highly experienced instructors are made up of ex-military and police personnel who have recognised civilian teaching qualifications and benefit from recent operational experience.

Their proven capabilities and our facilities ensure that your personnel are thoroughly prepared for any demanding situations they may face.

Course dates and prices

Available on request

About G4S Risk Management

G4S Risk Management is the leader in providing risk mitigation, secure support services and integrated solutions to governments, international agencies, small to medium enterprises and multi-national corporations, wherever they may operate.